

We found Matteo Galbusera's musical worlds with his show Maicol Gatto, which introduced us to a succession of perfectly orchestrated cacophonies that make a smile to everyone on more than one occasion. Galbusera presented us a surreal world where his character seems to blend and merge with synthesizers, musical instruments, lights and noises, for a show in which human and non-human seemed to merge and merge.

The genius of visual comedy has arrived at the XIII International Carnival of the Arts in Barranquilla! This year Matteo Galbusera, Italian musician and comedian, winner of numerous prizes and awards, he performed in the most important international street theater festivals and he worked with the legendary Cirque Du Soleil.

Able to combine his talents with sound technologies and the most eccentric costumes, he took us into his absurd world in an explosion of laughter.

Matteo Galbusera's keyboard performance is a very original number made up of music, noises and sounds, glances and "special effects" that even include a plane crash, all on his keyboard. "Brilliant, a comedy never seen".
